OUICKLY SIGNED BY CLEVELAND.

Mr. Bland and His Followers Made & Lesperate Fight Against the Bill, But Speaker Crisp Held the Whip Hand and Squelched the Silverites Sliver Purchase Now Stopped.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 .- The house passed the senate substitute for the house silver purchase repeat bill in less than three hours this afternoon. Then as speedily as possible the bill was engrossed, signed by the speaker and vice-president and sent to the president. He was in readiness for it and five minutes after he received it his signature was attached to it. This ends sliver purchases by the government

To the firmness of Speaker Crisp was, in a large part, due the speedy passage of the senate substitute by the house. The silver men had announced their determination to filibuster as long and as vigorously as they could but the speaker would not permit this and in less than three hours after the bill was called up it had been passed and was in the hands of the engrossing clerk.

As soon as the house had settled down to business to-day, in the presence of a crowd of interested spectators, who filled the galleries, Mr Wilson of West Virginia, cailed up the senate substitute for the house silver purchase repeat bill and at once demanded the previous question.

Then began a short but sharp fight by the silver men. First Mr Bryan of Nebraska, moved to adjourn and demanded a division. The motion was defeated, yeas 26 nays 108,

The silver men then moved a recess until 3 o'clock, but this was also defeated on a division. Then they made an ineffectual attempt to secure a roll call, but on division 29 demanded the yeas and nays and 185 were against the motion and it was lost. Thus the silver men had not even been able to muster sufficient strength to secure a roll call.

After this the silver men again resorted to alternate dilatory motions for adjournment and recess

At 1:15 o'clock Speaker Crisp took advantage of a momentary full and put the motion for the previous question, which was declared carried. Mr. Bryan of Nebraska was demanding the attention of the speaker but was not seen. It was all done so quickly that the silver men did not seem to know what had happened. The result was greeted with loud applause.

Mr. Spodgrass of Tennessee, who had been assisting the filibusterers, made a motion to adjourn, but the speaker said that he had recognized Mr. Wisson and he could not be taken off the floor.

Mr. Wilson asked Mr. Bland to consume the fifteen minutes to which the silver side was entitled and Mr. Bland began his address, but not before Mr. Snodgrass had asserted that these motions would be continued upon other stages of the proceedings before a vote could be reached on the main proposition

Mr. B and created a sensation by declaring that the extra session and this whole legislation had been thrust upon the people as a stock jobbing speculation.

At 1:35 o'clock Mr. Bryan began speaking. His time was limited to three minutes and Mr. Pence of Colorado asked unanimous consent that he should have ten minues more.

Objection was made, "Who objects?" demanded Mr. Pence.

"I object," defiantly replied Mr. Outhwaite of Obio. Mr. Bland yielded to Mr. Wheeler of Alabama and when he had concluded the silver men had exhausted their

Mr. Wilson then yielded five minutes to Mr. Springer of Illinois and then to Mr. Livingston of Georgia, who spoke briefly

Then Mr. Wilson yielded five minutes to Mr. Reed of Maine, who said the country was generally letter off when the Democratic party was disappointed. This was a serious experiment which must be tried. Congress had at last done its duty but delays had robbed the measure of its chief

Mr. Tracy of New York talked for two minutes and then Mr Wilson closed the debate and demanded a vote

Mr. Bland moved to commit the substitute to the committee on coin age, weights and measur instructions to report the law of 1837 which would provide for fees coinage at the rate of 16 to i. Upon this the yeas and mays were ordered

Mr. Bland's motion was defeated by a vote of 109 years to 175 mays After the B and mot on Mr. Bryan of Nebraska at 2:24 announced that the anti-repeal men would not filibuster further as there were two few silver men ready and willing to join in such proceedings. He left to the future the task of determining who were right and who were wrong on this great public quest on. He called upon the American people to send to the next congress representatives enough to solve the financial question independently of the influence or interference of foreign governments. At 2:39 the roll call began on the concurrence in the senate amendments and final passage of the bill. At 2:50 the house by a vote of 191 yeas to 94 nays concurred in the senate amendments and the repeal bill went to the president for his approval.

QUICKLY SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The committee on enrolled bills soon submitted the silver bill and after the speaker had signed it the chief clerk took it to the senate.

The senate received a communication at 3:55 from the house announcing that that body had concurred in the senate amendments to the repeal bill. Vice President Stevenson at once affixed his signature and annonneed it to the senate and the bill at 4 o'clock was delivered to the chairman of the house committee on enrolled bills and at once sent to the president for his signature.

The president sent for a complete statement of the vote on the silver bill and a copy of the entire vote was at once made at the clerk's desk for him. At 4:20 p. m. the repeal bill was handed to President Cieveland. There were present with him Secretary Carlisle, Attorney General Olney and Private Secretary Thurber. The president read the bill aloud and at 4:25 signed it.

NO TORRY BILL PROBABLE. The House bure to Amend the Bankruptey Bill In Many Ways.

Washington, Nov. 2. - There seems no possibility of the house passing the bankruptcy bill at this season and there are grave doubts about its going through the house at all. The opposition has been gathering strength apparently and has made impresgive arguments against the measure. At all events the bill will be very materially amended before it gets through. The opponents of the bill will amend it, if they can, so that its author will not recognize it. The supporters of the measure, rather than see it defeated outright, will probably allow almost any amendment to be made hoping that the bile will be restored in the senate and an agreement reached in conference which will meet the approval of a majority of the house.

TO TREAT WITH THE INDIANS.

Ex-Senator Dawes Named as Head of the Five Civilized Tribes Commission.

Washington, Nov. 2 - The presilent to-day sent the following nominations to the senate: Ex-S mater Henry L. Dawes of Massachusetts, Meredith H. Kidd of Indiana and Archibald S. McKennon of Arkans is to be commissioners to negotiate with the five civilized tribes under the provision of the act of congress approved March 3, 1893; William B Anderson of Illinois to be pension agent at Chicago; George Harper of Georgia to be agent for Indians at Umatilla agency in Oregon; Davis F. Day of Colorado to be agent for the Indians of the Southern Ute agency in Colorado.

Bank Officials Ger Off Easy.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2. - The grand jury, which has been investigating the recent bank failures in this city, reported this morning and was discharged. The findings have been surpressed, but it is understood that only three true bills were found against President Trumpf and Cashier Koetting of the South Side bank, which was reported several days ago, and against another bank official who was indicted by a previous gran I jury.

Ten Warships for Brazil.

New York, Nov. 2. - The Brazilian government has purchased for use as warships the Advance, Finance, Alliancia, Segurenca and Vigillancia of the recent United States and Brazil steamship company. This gives to the Brazilian government ten new vessels. The others are El Cid. El Rio. Destroyer, Geisen and the new Yarrow orpedo boat which is about to be shipped to New York.

CHICAGO DOES GRAND HONOR TO THE LATE MAYOR.

A MONSTER BURIAL PAGEANT.

United States Army Officers and Troops State Officers and Militim, City and County Officers, World's Fair tillcials and Innumerable ties in the Process Lust Tributes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. - One hundred thousand people looked upon the face of Carter H. Harrison, world's fair mayor of Chicago, who had been murdered without warning by manuac Prendergast, while the body lay in state at the city hall yesterday afternoon, last night and this morning and 10,000 more were in line when the hall doors closed.

f. Then, with probably the greatest funeral escort that ever accompanied an American citizen, the body was taken to the church of the Epiphany where the last services were head. The honors were paid by federal and state troops, city and national employes and thousands and thousands of citizens.

At 10 o'clock this morning the body was borne from the black draped and flower scented corridor of the city hall where it had rested in state and placed in the funeral car. Through the great crowd that gathered the black car slowly passed and took its place in the waiting procession.

As the hearse drew into the line, the march was taken up and the thousands who had gathered to do honor to the dead moved slowly through the crowded streets with banners draped and to the sad music of the funeral march. Out from the center of the city the great procession marched across the river and to the beautiful church of the Epiphany, near the late executive's home.

All along the line of march the people with bared heads watched the somber column and about the church a throng as great as that which had been about the city hall was gathered. Immediately following the great black and golden hearse was the thor-oughbred mare, saddled and bridled, but riderless, riding on which in many a labor riot or fisce election contest the dead mayor had been for years a notable figure.

HOSTS PAY THEIR LAST RESPECTS. From the time the mayor's body ras placed in the city hall yesterday continuous procession moved through he corridor and past the bier. For early twenty-four hours the line emained unbroken, and when to-day he corridor was of necessity closed to he public, a great crowd still re-nained in line swaiting a last look at he features of the dead executive. all night long men and women stood n double file awaiting an entrance to he building. Late last night the line extended a block and a half from the entrance, where people stood in line to portunity to see the face of the dead. As the line grew shorter with the coming of the morning the officers on guard used every endeavor to rush the people past the bier, but before the night's crowd had melted the early morning throng be-gan to arrive, and when the corridors were closed it was estimated that fully 100,000 people had filed past the

ANOTHER CALLS ON THE POLICE.

They All Demanded Money but Were Locked Up Instead - Wneeling, W. Va., Has Two of Them on Its Hands-One of Them Made an Assault - Battimore's Mayor Threatened.

New Yes, Nov. 2.—The latest erank walked into police headquarters at 12:45 o'clock yesterday. "I want to see the superintendent,"

he said to Sergeant Mangin. "He is very busy; won't I do?" said the sergeant.

"No I am after the superintendent. I want the money he owes me. Why don't he pay it?"
"Oh," said the sergeant, catching on, "all right, come right in," and he led the man into the chief's presence, keeping close at his elbow. The superintendent looked up and took in the situation at once.

"What can I do for you?" he asked. "You can pay me the money you owe me. Why don't you? I've waited long enough."

"Let me see, how much is it now?" said Mr. Byrnes, looking his visitor over with a searching glance. The fellow never winced. He evidently knew his cause was just and expected the superintendent to come around. "It's $75,000," he said. "I told Mr. Bell to give it to you. You were one man in a thousand I picked out to keep the money for me, but now you've had it long enough. Two years is a long time. There is $25,000 interest on it now. I want it Pennies are pretty scarce, but may be we can manage it. Frank, you take this man into the detective office and get him his $100,000. See that they give him the $25,000 in pennies and the rest in bills."

The sergeant and the crank walked over the bridge arm in arm. The crank is now in an iron cell waiting to be paid. He put his name down as Thomas Reilly, a painter by trade, 45 years old and his home at 18 Pell street.

With a long bladed knife and a keen edged razor in his pocket a demented man walked into the East Thirty-fifth street station and cooly told Sergeant Fagan to hand over $5,000 right away, as he was in reduced circumstances, The visitor was promptly arrested and disarmed.

He said his name was John Greitzholz and that he had no home. lieving that he was going to the bank the crank was quietly taken to the Yorkville police courtand sent to Bellevue hospital.

TWO CRANKS LOCKED UP. One of Them Made a Murderous Attack

"Yes, I know," drawled Mr. Reed.
"You are still children in swaddling clothes. It was entailed on you. You are going about from one end of the country to the other talking about entailed. Why don't you do some thing yourselves?" [Laughter.] "We have at last secured both branches of congress and the executive," replied Mr. Dockery, "and we hope to repeal some of the legislation which makes these large expenditures necessary."

"You are not repealing much today," sneered Mr. Reed, alluding to the refusal of the house to take ur the repeal bill. "We have had no opportunity."

"No opportunity?" said Mr. Reed. "You have had three months, the house, the senate and the presidentpartially," he added as an afterthought. "We will repeal it in time," said Mr. Dockery.

"But you did not participate in the effort to repeal it," said Mr. Reed amid laughter. With this parting shot at Mr. Dockery, who voted against repeal, Mr. Reed subsided and the bill was passed.

Debate on the bankruptcy bill was then resumed. Mr. Wolverton of Pennsylvania spoke in support of the
